Mrs. Mose Newman and Mrs. Sam Frankenberg entertained with auction bridge on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Newman. Cards were started at 2:30 with three tables and a few guests started in a sewing contest. For high score, Mrs. Ben Frankenberg received a black silk French bag and Miss Helen Treu and guest, Miss Loretta Lionin, received dainty handmade handkerchiefs, as did Mrs. Gage, who won the sewing contest.

Delicious refreshments of chicken salad, olives, cheese sticks, iced tea, almonds, ice cream, French pastries and mints were served. All carved out in the color scheme of pink and white.

The guests were Mesdames George Ochs, Howard Sterling, E. G. Ruffner, Ben Frankenberg, Kline, John Treu, John Hankin, N. C. Bledsoe, C. S. Thompson, Brehan, Gage and Misses Helen Treu, Loretta Lionin, Washington, D. C., and Miss Louise Williams.

Miss Gladys Woods is a guest at Slaughter's ranch, San Bernardino, this week.

Mrs. Frank L. Williams and daughter, Beatrice, returned Saturday from a visit of six weeks to Louisiana and Texas.

Mrs. George Ochs entertained at auction bridge on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Clavson Hill. The guests enjoyed cards, high score being won by Mrs. Jared Taylor and the consolation by Miss Cornelia Ellwood. Delicious refreshments were served. The guests were: Mesdames C. S. Thompson, T. O. Rhodes, E. E. Ellwood, Gerald Sherman, Howard Sterling, T. Olson, Jared Taylor, Henry Holts, N. C. Bledsoe, E. G. Ruffner and Miss Cornelia Ellwood.

The Philathea class of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. C. E. Cummings on Tuesday evening, when plans were completed for the fall and winter work and a scholarship in the Mary Platt school at Tucson open to children of Bisbee, was decided upon. An entertainment will be given in the near future by the class for this cause. After the business meeting refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. John Treu leave the last of the week for the Pacific Coast where they will visit for some time. Miss Loretta Lionin, who has been their house guest for a month will accompany them. Miss Lionin was the recipient of a number of parties in her honor, and numbers her Bisbee friends by the score. While in California, Miss Lionin will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Hearst. She plans to sail for the Philippines in September.

Miss Winifred entertained a few of her friends with a party at the Copper Queen hotel on Tuesday.

The Ladies of Elksdom will meet at the Elks Home on August 2.

Mrs. Regines entertained with a dinner party at the Country club on Friday evening.

The Needlecraft Club will entertain with a picnic at Vista Park August 4.

"SWEETEST GIRL IN PENNSYLVANIA" TO WED AN OHIO BOY

Miss Elizabeth Kolb.

"The sweetest girl in Pennsylvania," so called by Governor Brumbaugh, Miss Elizabeth Kolb, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Louis J. Kolb, of Germantown, has disregarded proposals from cowboys, bankers and men of affairs throughout the country and has become engaged to Ralph Alvin Gibbs, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, class of 1916. He is a son of a wealthy manufacturer of Canton, Ohio.

Going Through Bisbee Shops I Noticed That--

The newest summer fad—large, drooping, black velvet hats with a touch of white.

The stores are showing some of the most exquisite handkerchiefs, all hand made, from Armenia. They are not like the Madeira work, as the designs are much smaller and daintier.

A dash of purple is the French idea for fall. The new tailleur dresses in blue have a bit of purple wool or bead trimming.

Large, severe sailors are good for early fall.

Befrilled boudoir caps are taboo, says fashion. The Dutch bonnet mode prevails and follows more closely the lines of the head.

Soutache braiding is one of the most favored trimmings for fall suits. Bolivia and velvet elours will be the material of the new coats and dress suits.

A pretty hat for street dress that gives a hint of fall is a toque that is covered with shaded velvet leaves.

Now is the time for the taffeta dresses that give a hint of the approaching winter. Taffeta dresses with trimmings of buttons and the white Colonial collars and cuffs, when worn with small or large velvet hats, are smart.

The new one-piece dress has the apron effect both in the front and back. One dress of serge has the collar, apron, sleeves and under arm part of the dress of satin.

The new fall suits show the Faure coat and the checker and funnel collar again.

Tonight another new comedy will be presented, "The Tourists." This, like all Teal shows, is full of catchy songs, dance numbers and specialties. Tonight's performance will commence at six thirty and continue until ten thirty.

A charming dress is of cream Georgette with the hem, sleeves and blouse bandings of blue Georgette.

A smart suit for early fall is in combination of zild faille and white broadcloth. The coat is of the faille, with the white broadcloth collar, cuffs and pockets, and stitched with a shade of brown thread. The skirt is of white broadcloth, the pockets lined with the faille, and the same stitching as on the coat. The buttons are white.

The fur sets—cap, cape and muff, will be good again this year.

Veils still play an important part in the summer and fall wardrobe, and the large, circular ones are smarter than ever.

Velvet bands alternating with bands of taffeta and all graduated, are the principal trimmings for the fall taffeta gown.

Have you seen the new heels for women who drive their own cars? Look at them in the local shops.

A new neck fixing is a velvet cape that points over the shoulders and ties in a bow in the front.

High shoes continue to lead in footwear, although more pumps are worn now in the warm weather.

The stores are showing some of the most beautiful linen dresses to be had, handkerchief linen and soft batiste. And as they are clearing their cases for the fall stock are selling these at half price. There is never a time when a pretty lingerie dress may not come in handy.

Hemstitching is being used as finishing for handsome blouses and sheer frocks.

New evening silks will be embroidered with silk and oddly fashioned. The white shirt and the colored blouse are still in vogue. One costume which made appearance last week is even a step further a white shirt with pockets lined with black. The blouse was of black, with row after row of white stitching, with white collar and cuffs which were deep and the trimming was large, white pearl buttons. The costume was taffeta, and needless to add, the black and white velvet hat.

The shops are showing dashing felt sailors, soft brim models, with the new rolling brim and ornamented with tiny birds, cockades, of ribbons, and tailored bands. The Phelps Dodge have an elaborate showing of these hats and they are extremely smart.

Every woman will want one of the pretty new parasols the stores are showing, now selling at half price. The Chin-chin, the Sell and the English are the newest, parasols and the designs are clever.

FOUR DOCTORS DISAGREED

Pains Disappeared After Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wilmington, Del.—"I was suffering from a terrible backache and pains in my side, with bearing down pains and was very nervous. I was always tired, always drowsy, never could get enough sleep and could not eat. I had four doctors and each told me something different. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I got good results and I now feel better than I have felt for years and I am gaining in weight. I can gladly recommend it to all women."—Mrs. GEORGE W. SMOULD, 1611 West 4th Street, Wilmington, Del.

Backache and bearing down pains are danger signals which every woman should heed. Remove the cause of these aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that good old root and herb medicine. Thousands of women have testified to its virtues. For forty years it has been making women strong, curing backache, nervousness, ulceration and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pain.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. confidential, Lynn, Mass.

Needlework Predominant on Children's Wear

CHILDREN'S fashions are exceptionally alluring just now. Styles are simple, materials are child-like and there is a tendency toward the use of needlework that is singularly attractive. Smocking is greatly in vogue, scalloped edges are freely used as finish, such simple stitches as feather stitch, briar stitch, French knots and the like are used, and one and all they give a dainty child-like effect. As a matter of course, applied trimmings also are used and simple laces are quite appropriate for children's frocks, but nevertheless, the tendency toward the hand work and the finish that belongs to the garment itself is a notable one. It is to be net in the fashions of the grown-ups as well as in those of the children, and undoubtedly the shortage of trimmings has something to do with the fashion, but to whatever it is due or however it has come about, the effect is charming and so eminently child-like as to be peculiarly well adapted to the little folks garments.

DESCRIPTION OF PATTERNS

9106 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Child's Dress, 4, 6 and 8 years.

NOT for a long time has needlework been as fashionable as it is at present. It is to be noted upon garments designed for all ages but it is perhaps especially dainty and especially attractive when used for infants' clothes. This little coat and hat are very charming, yet the design is exceedingly simple, one that can be worked without any great expenditure of time or of effort. There are a number of suitable materials, but fine cashmere is the accepted one for the baby's coat and cashmere always makes a good foundation for needlework. The scalloped edges require to be heavily padded both for the sake of beauty and of durability. The flowers can be worked either solidly or as eyelets or some solidly and some as eyelets. A pretty effect is obtained EXCEEDINGLY quaint and attractive purse and handkerchief bags of beads sewed over silk, solid dark colors making the background for really brilliant flower designs.

Handsome shoes that combine smartness with good sense. They are made of tan buckskin with low comfortable heels. They are shapely and they are put forth as the latest decree by one of the smartest purveyors of women's shoes.

Plain coaching parasols with horn top handles. They are supplied with straps to be slipped over the wrists. Dainty evening frocks for young girls made of white net embroidered with delicately tinted flowers. The skirts are straight and gathered, the bodices are finished with quince fichus.

Sports hats in quaint shape of blue and white linen that are cut in wedge shape pieces and sewed one to the other to form the crowns.

Quaint little hats with crowns of yellow Angola straw, brims of black patent leather and ornaments of flat silhouetted yellow chickens cut from celluloid.

Golf sweaters of knitted green wool with sleeves of green satin that are suggestive of a jockey's costume. Attractive morning costumes that consist of skirts of white and pale blue awning striped cloth with blouses of white handkerchief linen trimmed with blue stripes.

Smart sweaters of heavy silk, in russet brown, woven much like a turkish towel with collar, cuffs and belt of a plain woven silk.

Attractive blouses of fine white crepe made soft and full with a band in crossed stitch design worked in red across each front above the belt, and across the upper portion of each sleeve.

Exceedingly dainty hats for garden parties and occasions of such sort consisting of frill above frill of narrow white valenciennes lace and trimmed with ruffles of field flowers held by bows of bright colored ribbon.

Blouses of sulphur colored batiste embroidered with blue and laced together at the front edges with blue ribbon.

Exceedingly smart one-toned costumes consisting of gown, hat and parasol to match. Colored linen with trimming of white is a favorite combination.

Quaint frocks for little girls of white organdie printed with tiny pink flowers and worn with jackets of pink linen.

Smart and practical bathing suits of black silk poplin stitched and trimmed with green. With them are slippers of green and black satin in cord stripes.

Practical and satisfactory cushions for bench use, of rubber finished cloth in really artistic colorings.

Exceedingly dainty and practical sleeveless gumpies of fine white organdie that are finished with big sailor collars, that are both dainty and becoming.

Embroidery Novelties Being Shown

By MAY MANTON

Big voluminous neck frills of white net that make charming summer wraps.

Charming blouse garnitures of white Georgette crepe with finish of valenciennes lace frills and little embroidered. They consist of wide collars with full fronts and completely transform a plain gown.

Folding wardrobes that can be hung in the closet at home or in the hotel room attached to the wall or to the door. When they are opened and hung into place they will hold eight gowns without crushing. Folded over they will occupy as small a space that they can be tucked into a corner of the trunk without adding to its weight.

Exceedingly attractive sports hats of genuine panama straw that can be folded in the smallest space without injury and which are offered for five dollars each.

Smart and attractive blouses of white handkerchief linen, with Tuxedo collars and turned back cuffs of white pique. One large pearl button accomplishes the closing.

A new washable silk known as lightweight Habutai. It shows white satin stripes marked with tiny green stripes and between the satin stripes are groups of two card stripes with a black stripe between each two. It lustrous and retains its color, it is thirty-two inches wide and sells for two dollars a yard.

Girdles and sashes of soft white ribbon that are braided together, some in three some in four strands. They show pastel shades of two colors combined and are exceedingly charming in effect.

Scarfs and stockings in matching color and design, designed for tennis, golf and the like. Plain color dotted with white makes a favorite design.

Sports stockings of heavy white silk striped in yellow. They are knitted like wool stockings and are quite as heavy.

What are known as collared slippers or strap slippers that are high at the back with bands that button around the ankles. Smart ones are of dark blue kid piped with white and finished with buckles of cut steel.
